

TG COLD ROOM JOB POSTING

Are you motivated to build a better world? Do you have demonstrated experience in renovation/construction, and a keen interest in starting your own eco-friendly business?

If you answered “Yes!” to all the above, this Transition Guelph (TG) opportunity could be for you. TG has been awarded a $5,000 “Seeding our Food Future” grant designed to kick-start and incubate a business that will retrofit homes and community spaces with cold storage rooms. A time-tested method of passive low energy food storage, cold storage rooms are ideal ways to reduce stress on our food supply chain, particularly in today’s climate emergency.

Transition Guelph will provide:

- Subsidized start-up costs and wage support until the program is operational
- Mentorship from partners at Innovation Guelph and from TG

The successful candidate will have:

- Renovation/construction skills
- Ability to work independently
- Willingness to collaborate with Board members and lead volunteers
- Ability to lead workshops
- Good customer relations skills
- Desire to start and manage your own business

Transition Guelph is a volunteer-driven non-profit dedicated to strengthening local resilience through projects and events. Projects are initiated by community members and grow depending on local resources and needs.
